Current Trends in Jackson County: We have been unable to verify recent reports of Jackson County having the highest case rate of COVID in the nation. The State of Michigan data (<https://www.mistartmap.info/>) and our Jackson County Health Department website data are accurate, which reflect other communities in the State of Michigan as having higher COVID rates than Jackson. While the State of Michigan has seen an increase in COVID cases, we encourage residents to continue the preventative measures recommended by the CDC as listed below. Current trends in Jackson include an increase in school age individuals, as well as those residents in the 30-50 age group. We continue to see a spread of the B 1.1.7 and B 1.351 variant, which are more transmissible. The Jackson County Courts will revert back to Phase 2 in the 4-phased COVID response plan, established by the Michigan Supreme Court, until further notice. We continue working on behalf of the residents of Jackson County, to have a safe and healthy community.

- The Jackson County Health Department COVID vaccine webpage remains a source of information for much of this data, which is updated daily with a graph and COVID numbers broken down by gender, age, race and ethnicity. In addition, maps are posted weekly, by township and school district, which provide a visual image of COVID cases throughout Jackson County.
- Vaccines are distributed to Jackson County residents in coordination with our healthcare partners such as hospitals, federally qualified health centers, pharmacies, and the local public health department.
